

A horizontal sequence of 16 grayscale images showing handwritten digits. The digits are arranged in two rows: the top row contains digits '0' and the bottom row contains digits '1'. Each digit is enclosed within a dark gray circular border. The digits themselves are rendered in a light gray or white color. The background is white, and the overall appearance is that of a digital dataset or a sequence of frames from a video.

